

James Foghorn: Sensei Foghorn started Karate in 1972 under Mr. Choi's Hapkido and Tae Kwon Do until 1975. He then trained under Carlos Duran Shorin Ryu from 1976 until 1979. From 1980 until 1982, he studied under Mr. Bill Packer's American Kenpo Association. In 1982 he began his study of Shorin Ryu under Master James Hawkes. He is a respected tournament participant, even now, into his late 50s. He places consistently at the tournaments he attends and won kumite grand champion at the 2015 Las Cruces Championships. He holds a 5th Dan at Jim Hawkes Karate, and uniquely received his Seki Ryu Kai designation from Master Hawkes as a brown belt in 1984. He has been a co-director of a karate school with his close friend, Sensei Michael Davies, now deceased, a Jim Hawkes yudansha, and now teaches both adults and children at the Hawkes hombu dojo frequently. Sensei Foghorn is particularly well known for his proficiency in kumite and warrior spirit that inspires all Hawkes karate-ka. Sensei Foghorn has been a corrections officer and in the security industry for many years.
